A FESTIVAL OF NEW WORKS

LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

When at home in what is now known as West Toronto, Theatre Gargantua is hosted on the traditional territories of many nations including the Mississaugas of the Credit, the Anishinaabe, the Chippawa, the Haudenosaunee, and the Wendat peoples. The land that is known as Chatham-Kent today and the Kiwanis Theatre are on the traditional territory of the Three Fires Confederacy consisting of the Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi peoples. These lands have been the subject of many treaties. In the regions around Lake Ontario, the Anishinaabe and Haudenosaunee agreed to share the land in peaceful coexistence under the Dish With One Spoon wampum belt covenant – a treaty made long before the arrival of European colonists that continues to this day and into which all newcomers have been welcomed.

To recognize the land is an expression of gratitude and appreciation to those whose territory you reside on, and a first step towards honouring the Indigenous people who have been living and working on the land from time immemorial.

Theatre Gargantua knows that a land acknowledgement alone will not make up for the past, but it is a promise to continue to dialogue, listen, and connect with the people who have cared for and continue to care for this land, to tell their stories, and to live with Mother Earth's best interests at heart.

A MESSAGE FROM THE LEADERSHIP AT THEATRE GARAGANTUA

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to Theatre Gargantua's Sidestream Festival.

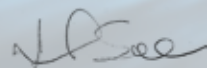

Sidestream represents a vital tradition within our three-decade history of pushing the boundaries of contemporary performance. We have always strived to create and present innovative and dynamic work and we have long championed original, socially relevant pieces that provoke conversation and celebrate the complexity of the human experience. Our Sidestream Cycle has nurtured bold, artist-driven projects for over a decade—and this festival is our way of sharing that creative spark with you.

This year's festival brings together a phenomenal lineup of new works and works-in-progress by some of the most exciting voices in Canadian theatre today. These stories—many being shared for the very first time—span genres, languages, generations, and cultural experiences. Over four electrifying nights, you'll encounter daring solo performances, multilingual epics, musical reunions, operatic revolutions, and comedic gems. From in-process to finished pieces, each work invites you—our audience—into the heart of the creative process.

With gratitude,

Jacquie P.A. Thomas
Artistic Director

Michael Spence
Associate Artistic Director

Mike Scott
General Manager

We are especially thrilled to bring Sidestream to Chatham—thanks in no small part to our General Manager, Mike Scott, a proud Chatham native. Mike's deep roots in this community and his passion for connecting local audiences with innovative art have made this festival possible. We are honoured to share this work in the town that shaped him, and grateful for the opportunity to contribute to Chatham's vibrant cultural landscape.

Our deepest thanks to our partners at the Kiwanis Theatre, the Municipality of Chatham-Kent, and all the artists, technicians, volunteers, and community supporters who have helped make this event a reality. We hope you'll leave inspired, challenged, and recharged by what you see. So let's dive in elbows up. Let's celebrate art that takes risks, voices that need to be heard, and stories that reflect who we are—now, and who we might become.

Enjoy the festival.

SYNOPSIS

A priest in hiding in Occupied France in 1941. A man sheltering in Gaza in 2024. A journalist on the run on Turtle Island in 2041. How do we relate to the plight of people living through the harshest, most destructive events of their time? How does their background and the language they speak affect how we view them? Spanning a hundred years and three continents, Mirrors is an exploration of three humans caught in the grips of the wars of our past, present, and future.

A reading of a work-in-progress written in French, Arabic, and English by Dora-award winning artist Nabil Traboulsi. The reading will be subtitled in English.

SYNOPSIS

Memories: Voices from the Trojan Horse reunites musicians, performers, and writers from the famous Danforth coffeehouse, the Trojan Horse. Featuring amazing talents from a time of cultural hybridity when Greek musicians in Toronto embraced Chileans in exile to form the legendary musical group, Compañeros.

This performance will evoke a sense of the magical period of poetry and protest, of a time when the voices of Nobel prize winning poet Pablo Neruda and Greece's great composer Mikis Theodorakis joined together in a call for global change. In Toronto during the 1970s and early 1980s, the place to find community was at the Trojan Horse, a space founded by Governor General's Award-winning poet Gwendolyn McEwen and Greek Musician Nikos Tsingos.

SYNOPSIS

One in six women experience infertility. Usually in secret. I mean, who wants to talk about the shame of getting an ultrasound wand stuck up their vajayjay every day, or the embarrassment of having to self-administer thousands of dollars of drugs into your butt cheeks?

A reading of the new work, (Un)Fruitful, (by Dora and Canadian Comedy Award Winning artist Heather Marie Annis), which follows three women chasing the dream of getting pregnant through all its hilarity and heartbreak. For those who may relate, know someone who does, or are just curious what it's like when "trying" becomes really trying.

SYNOPSIS

Combining comedy, drama, and opera, this electrifying show explores the many ways that race, gender, and sexuality are policed in the opera industry. Through the lens of The Magic Flute's iconic Queen of the Night, the show reclaims space for the multitudes of women, trans, and non-binary individuals excluded from the stage, daring to imagine bold new possibilities for the future of the art form and beyond.

The Queen In Me features a range of dramatic arias from some of the world's most well-loved operas: Puccini's La Bohème, Madama Butterfly, Turandot, and Manon Lescaut; Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor; Verdi's Macbeth and Rigoletto; R. Strauss' Salome; and Mozart's The Magic Flute.

The Queen In Me is a co-production by Theatre Gargantua, Amplified Opera, Canadian Opera Company, and Nightwood Theatre
